Dear John

May I take the opportunity to pass on my thanks for the work that you carried out on the Skyride building and the erection of the iconic Corkscrew Helix over our closed season 2009-2010 here at Alton Towers.

In particular, the Corkscrew Helix project which was not without a challenge or two, with very little information of how the structure was originally erected and the fact that the new location on site was at different ground levels, the task to erect the structure was no mean feat! However, with your expertise and dedication, we not only completed the project on time but within budget.

The finished project has had much praise from the public and our senior management team.

Many thanks and kind regards
